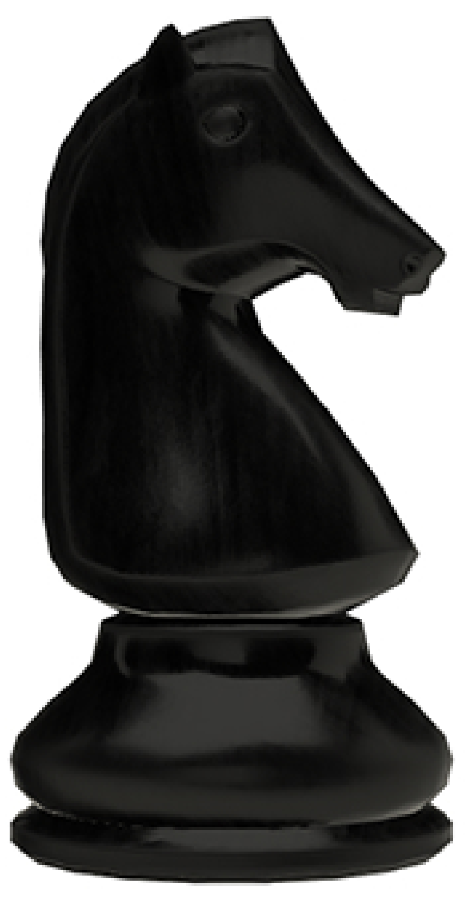
Unity HDRI

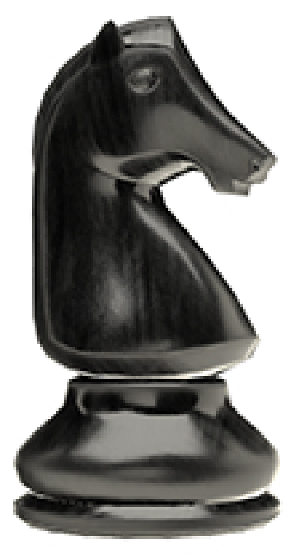
Best practices for enhancing visual experience of HDRI maps.

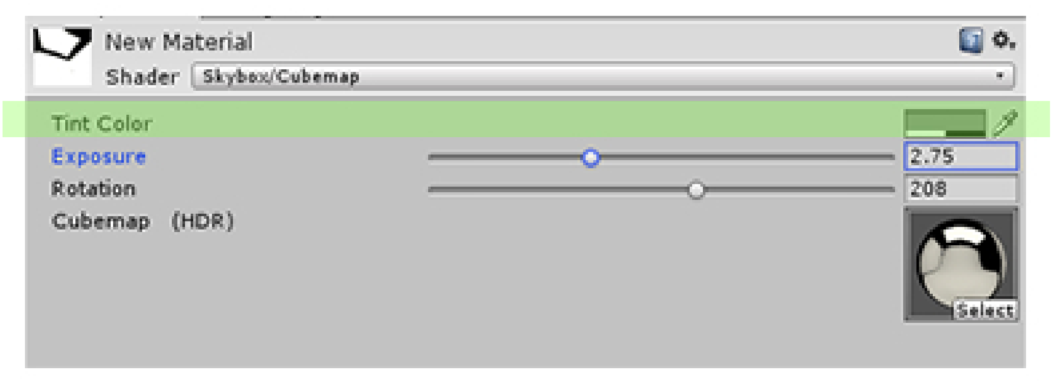
PROASSETS

1 By default you won't be able to see much of the reflectiviy happening to the object.



2 You can up the exposure but it tends to blow out the whole HDRI map even with extra light information saved in 32-bit hdr image.





New Material

Shader	Skybox/Cubemap
Tint Color
Exposure	2.75
Rotation	208

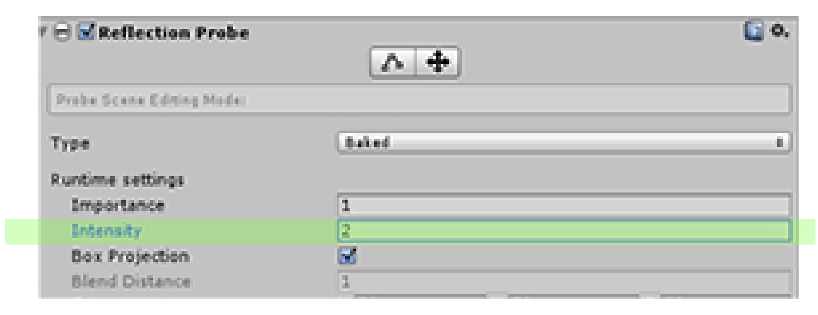
3 Other way is to increase reflection intensity on reflection probe

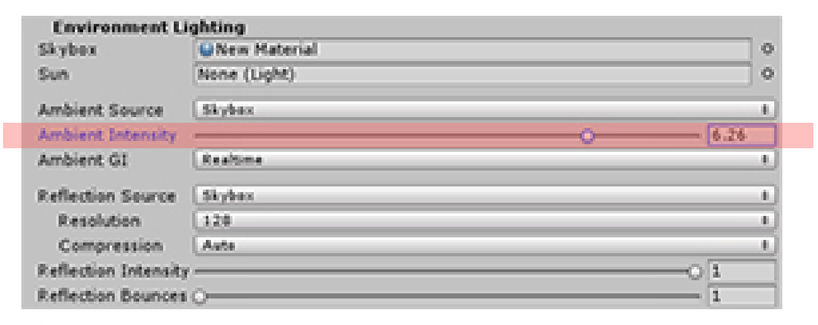


☑ Reflection Probe

Probe Scene Editing Mode:

Type	Baked
Runtime settings
Importance	1
Intensity	2
Box Projection	☑
Blend Distance	1

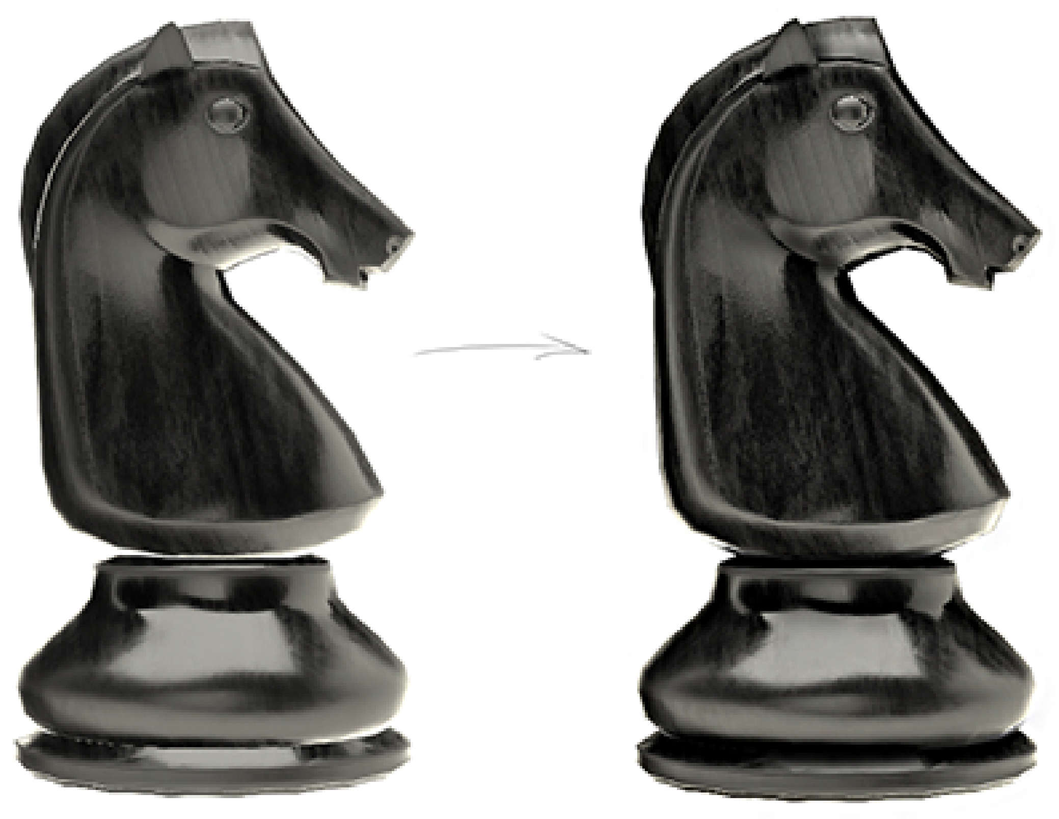
 Increasing ambient intensit of the mapped skybox doesn't add anything on the other hand.

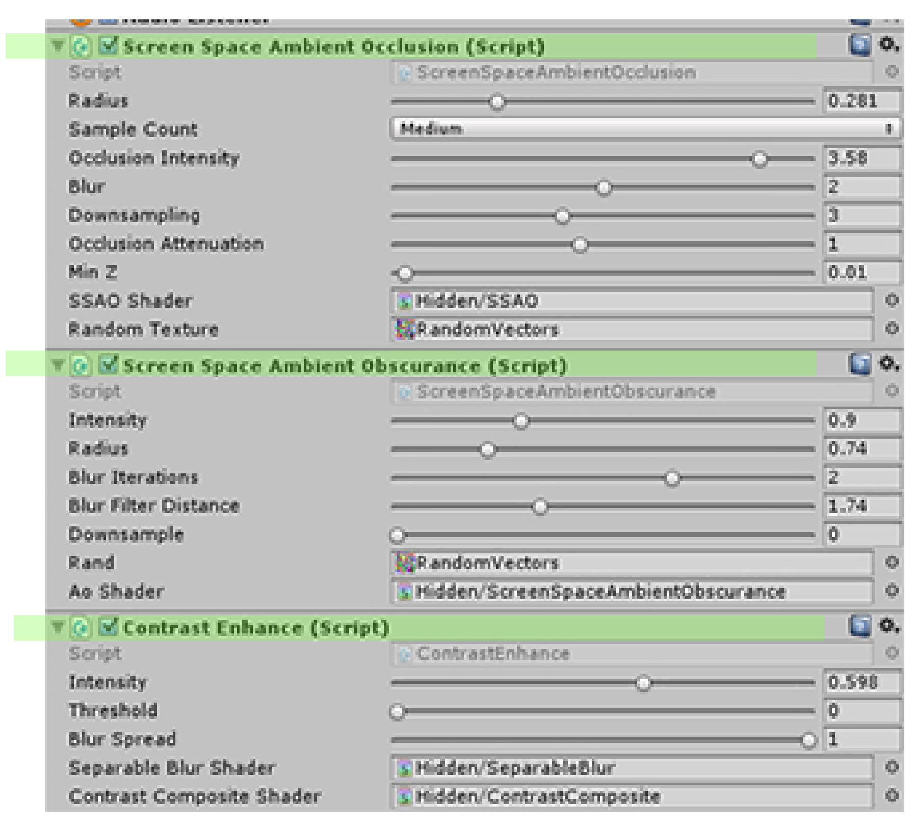


Environment Lighting

Skybox	New Material
Sun	None (Light)
Ambient Source	Skybox
Ambient Intensity	6.26
Ambient GI	Realtime
Reflection Source	Skybox
Resolution	128
Compression	Auto
Reflection Intensity	1
Reflection Bounces	1

4 To push the look you can add ambient occlusion and enhance contrast components on the camera. Though it will obviously low the in-game performance.





☑ Screen Space Ambient Occlusion (Script)

Script	ScreenSpaceAmbientOcclusion
Radius	0.281
Sample Count	Medium
Occlusion Intensity	3.58
Blur	2
Downsampling	3
Occlusion Attenuation	1
Min Z	0.01
SSAO Shader	Hidden/SSAO
Random Texture	RandomVectors

☑ Screen Space Ambient Obscurance (Script)

Script	ScreenSpaceAmbientObscurance
Intensity	0.9
Radius	0.74
Blur Iterations	2
Blur Filter Distance	1.74
Downsample	0
Rand	RandomVectors
Ao Shader	Hidden/ScreenSpaceAmbientObscurance

☑ Contrast Enhance (Script)

Script	ContrastEnhance
Intensity	0.598
Threshold	0
Blur Spread	1
Separable Blur Shader	Hidden/SeparableBlur
Contrast Composite Shader	Hidden/ContrastComposite

5 Final tip is to add a weak directional light that puts a small specular highlight on your model and doesn't effect overall brightness of the scene.
